

About the Color Stone Jewelry Sale Catalog Auction Event

The 2017 Color Stone Jewelry Sale Catalog Auction Event is a five-week event held from April 11th through May 13th. Over 350 pieces of color stone jewelry have been brought in to our showroom for this event. Items range from antique and vintage to modern and contemporary with some items that are new. Many items are one-of-a-kind and some are collectable, including some designer "signed" pieces.

Items are available for inspection in our showroom for five weeks only, or until sold. Items offered in the event are listed in our catalog. Copies of the catalog are available in our showroom and on our website. Each piece of jewelry is tagged with a number that corresponds to the catalog listing of the item's description, pricing, and markdowns. Prices and markdowns are based on the items' retail replacement value. Prices for the event start at half off retail. The second week of the event, items are marked down to 60% off of retail. The third week, items are marked down to 70% off of retail. The fourth week, items are marked down to 80% off retail. The fifth and final week, items are marked down to 90% off retail.

Items are available to be purchased according to the catalog listed markdown schedule. However, bids may be placed on items for any of the upcoming week's markdowns. If, for example, no one else has placed a bid on an item for the week five markdown of 90% off retail, you may bid on that piece of jewelry at that price. If someone else wants to bid on (or buy) that piece of jewelry, they will have to go to, at least, the week four markdown of 80% off retail. If no one else bids on that item, or purchases it during an earlier week, the piece is yours!
